Summary

Backend-focused engineer comfortable across multiple stacks (Java, Python, Node.js, Rust), with experience designing service layers, async task processing, real-time communication, and local/cloud data persistence for production and team-based academic projects.

Featured Backend Projects

YAMDUT – Ride-Sharing Platform

Team Project — Java, Gradle, MySQL, Live GPS Mapping

- Contributed to backend services for a ride-sharing platform covering authentication, ride matching, and trip management as part of a college integrative team project
- Worked on a desktop-first Java frontend with live GPS tracking via Mapbox map integration
- Contributed to system documentation covering API design, architecture, and database schema

Suisik Backend

Python, Django, Django REST Framework, Celery

- Designed backend services for an EdTech platform: REST APIs, async processing via Celery, and a document/RAG processing pipeline
- Implemented rate-limiting middleware, structured exception handling, and health-check endpoints for operational reliability

Shame Desktop – Cross-Platform System App

Rust, Tauri, SQLite

- Built a desktop application backend using Rust (Tauri) for low-overhead native OS interaction with local SQLite persistence via the Tauri SQL plugin

Notification Server

Node.js, Express.js, Firebase Admin SDK

- Built and deployed a lightweight Express.js microservice for push-notification delivery, backed by Firestore token lookups

n8n Automation Deployment

Docker

- Containerized the n8n workflow-automation tool with a custom Dockerfile for self-hosted deployment
